Recalling its previous recommendations,³ the Committee recommends that the State party fully incorporate the Convention into national legislation, conduct a comprehensive review of all its legislation to align it with the Convention and address any inconsistencies, and develop systematic child-rights impact assessment procedures for national and subnational legislation and policies relevant to children.

Comprehensive policy and strategy

- (a) Is developed with the meaningful participation of children;
- (b) Encompasses all areas covered by the Convention;
- (c) Provides guidance to relevant bodies, including non-State actors in the context of public procurement;
- (d) Includes a focus on mainstreaming children's rights and a child rights-based approach to decision-making affecting children and on addressing inequality and discrimination;

The Committee recommends that the State party review the effectiveness of existing mechanisms for facilitating inter-agency coordination on activities affecting children and identify measures to strengthen the monitoring and coordination of all activities related to the implementation of the Convention across all sectors.

Allocation of resources

9. The Committee recommends that the State party incorporate a child rights-based approach into the State budgeting process:

- (a) To implement a tracking system for the allocation, use and monitoring of resources for children in all areas of their rights, with a view to eliminating disparities and ensuring equitability, and assess how investments in all sectors serve the best interests of the child;
- (b) To define specific budget lines for all children, including in the national recovery and resilience plan, paying special attention to those in disadvantaged situations that may require affirmative social actions, especially Traveller and Roma children and children with disabilities;

³ CRC/C/IRL/CO/3-4, paras. 9 and 11.

(b) Ensure that the strategy is applied to all government entities with adequate human, financial and technical resources to implement it, as well as to non-State actors in the context of public procurement, and that equality data on children is published in accessible and age-appropriate formats for children and for its use by relevant bodies, professional groups and civil society for the evaluation of policies and programmes on children's rights;

(c) Strengthen the collection and analysis of data on children in disadvantaged situations including children with disabilities, children in alternative care, children experiencing homelessness, children without a regular residence status, migrant children and Roma children.

Independent monitoring

11. The Committee recommends that the State party:

Asylum-seeking, refugee and migrant children

40. Recalling joint general comments No. 3 and No. 4 (2017) of the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of All Migrant Workers and Members of Their Families/No. 22 and No. 23 (2017) of the Committee on the Rights of the Child, the Committee recommends that the State party:

(a) Prioritize measures to phase out the direct provision system by 2024, including through clearly defined targets, timelines and sufficient resources, in line with the recommendations of the Advisory Group on Direct Provision;

(b) Assess the impact of the visa requirement for refugees arriving from outside the European Union, with a view to lifting the requirement;

(c) Ensure that vulnerability assessments for all unaccompanied children are conducted in a child-friendly manner by trained professionals, within 30 days of their arrival, and that applications for legal residency are promptly processed;

(d) Ensure that all asylum-seeking children, including children with disabilities, have prompt access to housing, education, health services, social protection, psychosocial and integration support and reasonable accommodation;

(e) Amend section 24 (2) (c) of the International Protection Act 2015 to allow for multidisciplinary assessments of unaccompanied persons' maturity and level of development to determine their age and in cases of doubt ensure respect for the principle of the benefit of the doubt;

(f) Develop national guidelines on ensuring the rights of unaccompanied children;

(g) Review its system of family reunification involving unaccompanied children, with a view to broadening the definition of "family member", simplifying application procedures and ensuring that the best interests of the child are a primary consideration in all related decisions.

Children without a regular residence status

41. Recalling its previous recommendations,⁶ the Committee recommends that the State party implement long-term solutions for the regularization of children without a regular residence status who were born in the State party, ensure their access to independent legal representation and strengthen measures to prevent their social exclusion.

Children of minority groups

42. Recalling its previous recommendations,⁷ the Committee urges the State party:

(a) To set a clear timeline for the next national Traveller and Roma inclusion strategy and strengthen measures to ensure the enjoyment of Traveller and Roma children of all rights under the Convention, including with regard to full and equal access to education, health services and adequate housing and freedom from discrimination and violence;

(b) To clarify the rights of Travellers as an official minority group.

Trafficking

43. The Committee is concerned about the lack of information on children who are victims of trafficking and recommends that the State party:

⁶ CRC/C/IRL/CO/3-4, para. 68.

⁷ CRC/C/IRL/CO/3-4, para. 70.

(a) Establish a national referral mechanism for the identification and referral of children who are victims of trafficking and ensure their access to psychological support, legal assistance and other support services, in line with the recommendations of the National Rapporteur on the Trafficking of Human Beings;

(b) Ensure that guardians ad litem, social workers and other relevant professionals receive training on trafficking;

(c) Investigate and prosecute cases of trafficking of children and ensure appropriate convictions for perpetrators.

Administration of child justice

44. The Committee remains seriously concerned about the low age of criminal responsibility, the access of children to justice, the insufficient training of relevant officials, the use of detention and the overrepresentation of children belonging to minority groups therein, the limited use of non-custodial measures throughout the State party, racial profiling of children by law enforcement officials and insufficient measures for ensuring the social reintegration of children leaving the justice system.

45. Recalling its general comment No. 24 (2019), the Committee urges the State party to bring its child justice system fully into line with the Convention and other relevant standards and:

(a) To raise the minimum age of criminal responsibility to at least 14 years of age;

(b) To ensure that children below the age of 18 are not prosecuted as adult offenders, without exception;

(c) To consider replicating the child justice court model in Dublin throughout the State party, with a view to ensuring that all children in the State party have access to a child justice court and/or specialized judges and prosecutors;

(d) To provide systematic training on children's rights and child-friendly proceedings for the judiciary, lawyers, law enforcement officials and other relevant officials working with children in the justice system;

(e) To avoid the use, and limit the duration, of pretrial detention by ensuring that children arrested and deprived of their liberty are promptly brought before a competent authority to examine the legality of deprivation of liberty or its continuation, and that pretrial detention is regularly and judicially reviewed;

(f) To actively promote non-judicial measures, such as diversion, mediation and counselling, for children accused of criminal offences, and, wherever possible, the use of non-custodial sentences for children, such as probation or community service;

(g) To ensure that detention is used as a measure of last resort and for the shortest possible period of time and that it is reviewed on a regular basis, with a view to its withdrawal, and address the overrepresentation of children belonging to minority groups in detention;

(h) To develop measures, in consultation with affected children and their families, to prevent racial profiling by law enforcement authorities;

(i) To strengthen measures to provide community-based social reintegration services for children leaving the justice system;

(j) To consider opting into, or transpose the most important elements of, the European Union directive on procedural safeguards for children who are suspects or accused persons in criminal proceedings.⁸

⁸ Directive 2016/800.
